DETAILED ACTION
Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1, 26, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Applicant's claims are directed to an algorithm. Specifically, claims recites "transaction request", "accessing", "comparing", "sending", "requesting", "authorization", however these steps are mere ideas in the abstract (i.e., abstract idea, law of nature, natural phenomena) that do not apply, involve, for example) and abstract ideas without a practical application are found to be non-statutory subject matter. Therefore, Applicant's claims are non-statutory as they do not produce a useful, concrete and tangible result.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 4-23, 25-43, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freney, Jr U.S Patent 6, 970, 850 in view Tsiounis et al (Hereinafter Tsiounis US Pub: 2001,0039535).

As per claim 1, Freney, Jr discloses a network enabled online transaction risk management system comprising;
at least one financial services server for processing financial transaction requests received over said network for at least one customer account wherein preferences for said at least one customer account are remotely configurable over said network (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47) at least one client in processing communications with said at least one financial services server over said network including means for remote configuration of said at least one customer account using one or more customer preferences, at least one point of sales terminal in processing communications with said at least one financial services server including means for performing said financial transaction with said financial services server.(Note abstract and see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47).

Freeny, Jr fail to explicitly teach said one or more customer preferences includes notification methods and said system comprises a notification section for performing said notification methods, said notification methods further includes authorization methods and said system further comprises an authorization section for performing said authorization methods, an authorization request sent to said at least one customer using said notification section if a characteristic of said financial transaction exceeds said one or more customer preferences.

However Tsiounis discloses if payment with a payment tender type was not preauthorized, PT Server gets the customer's confidential payment information and the transaction information (step 440) and verifies the information (step 445). PT Server transmits the customer's confidential payment information to Transaction Processor (FIG. 3, step 34). Transaction Processor receives payment requests from PT Server 140 (and in some cases, from PAN Server 120), and redirects them to the financial institution that issued the chosen payment tender. The financial institution verifies the Transaction in real time and sends the request back to Transaction Processor. If the funds are available to clear the transaction, Transaction Processor authorizes payment and informs PT Server (FIG. 3, step 35) (see column 4-5 para 0052 and column 6 para 0063, 0068, and column 8 para 0088).

Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the teachings of Freeny, Jr to include said one or more customer preferences includes notification methods and said system comprises a notification section for performing said notification methods, said notification methods further includes authorization methods and said system further comprises an authorization section for performing said authorization methods, an authorization request sent to said at least one customer using said notification section if a characteristic of said financial transaction exceeds said one or more customer preferences taught by Tsiounis in order to provide a plurality of servers on a network to perform separated or isolated image processing desired by a user, wherein the communication system and the method make it possible to improve the speed of image processing on a network platform at reduced costs.

As per claim 4, Freeny, Jr discloses wherein said one or more customer preferences includes transaction limits (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47).

As per claim 5, Freeny, Jr discloses wherein said one or more customer preferences includes authorization limits (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47).

As per claim 6, Freeny, Jr discloses wherein said one or more customer preferences includes account suspension limits (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47).

As per claim 9, Freeny, Jr discloses wherein said one or more customer preferences includes an applicable time period (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47).

As per claim 26, Freeny, Jr discloses a method for reducing financial transaction risk comprising;
establishing networking communications between a client and a financial services server by at least one customer wherein said financial services server is in processing communications with at least one point of sales terminal, accessing an account on said financial services server owned by said at least one customer, entering one or more customer preferences (see column 6 lines 38-48 and column 13 lines 39-65 and column 14 lines 1-24 and column 9 line 65 and column 10 lines 1-47) comparing a characteristic of a financial transaction received from said at least one point of sales terminal to said
